Newsmen traditionally denote the end of a news story by putting the mark "—30—" after the last paragraph. It's so common, in fact, they've made a movie of it.

Public relations men however, take it as a means to further spread their message. United States Steel publicists end their messages with "—USS—" and others use similar devices.

A new one showed up this week. Security-First National Bank signs their release "—$$$—".

WHY SMART WOMEN COOK WITH MODERN GAS!

INSTANT

on—no warm-up wait. Even highest cooking temperatures are delivered immediately. On all four high-speed burners at once, if you wish. Small wonder smart women agree: Gas cooking is easier because it's so flexible. From simmer to boil and at 1000 temperatures in between, you're in charge. A modern gas range gives you the finest automatic features—yet costs less to buy and install, costs less to operate, too.
